Software Support and Maintenance Agreement

This Software Support and Maintenance Agreement (“Agreement”) is entered into as of the effective date set forth below by and between Volcano Corporation (“Volcano”) and you, the Customer under this Agreement (“Customer”). BY PURCHASE ORDER OR REMITTANCE OF PAYMENT FOR THE SOFTWARE SUPPORT AND MAINTENANCE AGREEMENT, CUSTOMER AGREES TO BE BOUND BY THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THIS AGREEMENT.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement

(a) “Effective Date” shall mean the date when the Customer issues an unconditional Purchase Document for the initial Term of the Software Support and Maintenance, subject to provision of payment.

(b) “Error” means any failure of the Software to conform in any material respect to its or their published specifications.

(c) “Error Correction” means either a modification or addition that, when made or added to the Software, brings the Software into material conformity with its or their published specifications, or a procedure or routine that, when observed in the regular operation of the Software, avoids the practical adverse effect of such nonconformity.

(d) “Product” means a product that Volcano manufactures and/or distributes and for which Volcano has approved the use of the Software.

(e) “Purchase Document” means Volcano’s purchase acknowledgment document or other document in which Volcano and the Customer acknowledge the Customer’s purchase of a Software Support and Maintenance Agreement.

(f) “Releases” means new versions of the Software, which may include Error Corrections and/or Updates.

(g) “Software” means the object code version of the software program listed on the first page of this Agreement as well as any related software programs, purchased or provided, which are designed to operate in conjunction with that software program.

(h) “Update” means a new update of the Software or Software component (i) which Volcano makes commercially available and (ii) which would normally be designated as a change in the digit(s) to the right of the tenths digit in the product version number [x.x.x]. An “Update” may consist of minor modifications of or improvements to the existing features of the Software, which Volcano is providing to its support agreement customers at no additional charge. “Update” does not include a product revision that provides any material enhancement of Software features or functionality. Volcano reserves the right and authority to define an update.

2. Term. The maintenance term for the Software shall commence on the Effective Date set forth above and shall continue for the duration of the term purchased.

(a) Expiration – The agreement expires at the end of the term unless renewed.

(b) Impact of Expiration – If a new agreement is not purchased within 60 days of the term expiration, the Customer can only receive software updates via an incremental purchase of a software upgrade, subject to future terms and pricing. Once an incremental software upgrade is purchased, the customer will be afforded the opportunity to purchase a software support and maintenance agreement for the upgrade purchased.

3. Scope of Maintenance. During the maintenance term, Volcano agrees to basic maintenance services in support of the Software product platform specifically identified on the first page of this Agreement. Basic maintenance services shall consist of:

(a) Error Correction. Volcano shall be responsible for using all reasonable diligence to correct verifiable and reproducible Errors when reported to Volcano in accordance with its standard reporting procedures. The Error Correction, when completed, may be provided in the form of a “temporary fix,” consisting of sufficient programming and operating instructions to implement the Error Correction.

(b) New Releases. Volcano may, from time to time, issue new Releases of the Software, containing Error Corrections and/or Updates, to customers who generally have maintenance agreements in effect. Volcano shall provide the Customer with one (1) copy of each new Release for each copy of the Software being maintained under this Agreement, without additional charge. Volcano shall provide reasonable assistance to help the Customer install and operate each new Release. Because Releases are cumulative, each Release is useful only if Customer has obtained and installed all prior applicable Releases. Note: Some compatible and related software may be released by Volcano and made available to the Customer through additional purchases. After purchasing such software, updates to the compatible and related software may be provided for the unit(s) covered under this Software Support and Maintenance Agreement.

(c) Staff. Volcano shall maintain a trained staff capable of rendering the services set forth in this Agreement.

4. Additional Services. In addition, Volcano may provide additional services, as mutually agreed, in support of the Software, subject to payment of its normal charges and expenses:

(a) Additional Training. Subject to space and staff availability, for an additional charge, Volcano will provide the Customer’s employees with additional or advanced training classes.

(b) Custom Enhancements. Volcano will consider and evaluate the development of custom enhancements for the Customer’s specific use and will respond to the Customer’s requests for additional services pertaining to the Software (e.g., as data conversion and report-formatting assistance).

(c) Back-Level Support. If the Customer chooses not to install any Release, Volcano will use reasonable commercial efforts maintain back-level versions of the Software at the Customer's request, at extra charge, subject to availability of technical support staff.

5. Software Location. The Customer understands and acknowledges that the Software is licensed for use by the Customer on the Product specifically identified on the first page of this Agreement and that the Software is licensed for use at a specific location. Subject to any and all applicable regulatory requirements, the Customer may move the Product and designate a new Product Location by giving written notice to Volcano.

6. Cooperation of the Customer. The Customer agrees to notify Volcano promptly following the discovery of any Error. Further, upon discovery of an Error, the Customer agrees, if requested by Volcano, to submit to Volcano a listing of output and any other data that Volcano may require in order to reproduce the Error and the operating conditions under which the Error occurred or was discovered.

7. Exceptions. The following matters are not covered by basic maintenance:

(a) Any problem resulting from the misuse, improper use, alteration, or damage of the Software;

(b) Any problem caused by modifications in any version of the Software not made or authorized by Volcano;

(c) Any problem resulting from programming other than the Software or equipment;

(d) Any problem resulting from the combination of the Software with such other programming or equipment to the extent such combination has not been approved by Volcano; or

(e) Errors in any version of the Software other than the most recent Release, provided that Volcano will continue to support superseded Releases for a reasonable period, not to exceed forty-five (45) days, sufficient for Customer to implement the newest Release.

The Customer will be responsible to pay Volcano's normal charges and expenses for time or other resources provided by Volcano to diagnose or attempt to correct any such problem. In addition, the Customer is responsible for procuring, installing, and maintaining all equipment, telephone lines, communications interfaces, and other hardware necessary to operate the Software and to obtain maintenance services from Volcano. Volcano will not be responsible for delays caused by events or circumstances beyond its reasonable control.

8. Fees and Expenses. The maintenance fee for the Software shall be two hundred fifty ($250.00) US dollars per year, per console. Such fee is due and payable at the beginning of the initial Term and each renewal year of maintenance hereunder. Maintenance fees do not include any applicable travel and living expenses for installation and training, file conversion costs, optional products and services, directories, consulting services, shipping charges, or the costs of any recommended hardware. instances. The Customer is also responsible for sales or use taxes and state or local property or excise taxes associated with Customer's licensing, possession, or use of the Software or any associated services.

9. Annual Renewal. The Software Support and Maintenance Agreement shall automatically expire at the end of the Term unless renewed by the Customer prior to end of the Term of the Agreement. Within thirty (30) days of expiration, Volcano will provide notification to the Customer with instructions for renewal. Software Support and Maintenance Agreement renewal will provide Customer an additional Term of Software Support and Maintenance as outlined in the original Agreement

10. Use and Restrictions. Volcano shall have sole and exclusive ownership of all right, title, and interest in and to such works (including ownership of all copyrights and other intellectual property rights pertaining thereto), subject only to the license expressly granted to the Customer therein. Unless otherwise agreed, the Customer is entitled to make and use only the number of copies of such works as the Customer is authorized to use of the Software to which they relate, and the Customer agrees to return or destroy, as requested by Volcano, superseded copies of the Software when replaced by such works.

13. Default. Should the Customer fail to pay any fees or charges due hereunder or fail to carry out any other obligation under this Agreement or any other agreement with Volcano, Volcano may, at its option, in addition to other available remedies, terminate this Agreement or suspend maintenance services, provided that it first gives the Customer thirty (30) days' prior notice in order to permit the Customer to cure the Customer's default. In addition, maintenance
